

Amanda Rarick v. Nationwide Agribusiness Insurance Co.
INS-18-2066

Heard: January 10, 2019

Decision Issued: January 14, 2019

The named insured requested a hearing to contest the cancellation of a commercial farm policy for nonpayment of premium. The company demonstrated that cancellation for nonpayment of premium was appropriate.

Held: For the company. Maine law under 24-A M.R.S. section 3007 allows an insurer to cancel a policy for nonpayment of premium. The company presented evidence to prove that the insured had not paid premiums in full and that it sent adequate notice.
